The present weakness of Pennsylvania Railroad shares, due primarily to disclosures in the coal inquiry before the Interstate Commerce Commission, was aggravated by sensational rumors concerning what is regarded as a new phase in Pennsylvania financierins.

Inquiry elicited the fact that the management for some time has had $15,000,000 of serial collateral trust short term bonds for sale. These bonds are secured by the stocks and bonds of water companies along the main line of the railroad. Conditions have not been favorable to putting these securities on the market. SALE TO-DAY AND TO-MORROW. The MAGNIFICENT BUILDING, cor. 6th Ave. and 23d St., erected by KING'S for the sale of men's and women's apparel, was finished just one month later than we expected. Merchandise of many kinds—including men's suits, topcoats and trousers, and women's tailor-made suits, cloaks, skirts, shirtwaists, men's furnishings and hats—were ordered in immense quantities, amounting to the enormous sum of over

But the Unexpected Happened and we could not sell goods until one month later. We are now caught with this enormous stock, and our policy will be to dispose of the same by cutting the selling prices almost to
